FRENCH COMBAT PATROL STANDS WATCH IN ALGIERS—With the death toll in Algeria nearing the 2,000 mark since Jan. 1, the French have added foot patrols to the regular police and armored cars in an effort to stem the rising tide of terrorist bombings. This French army combat patrol is standing watch in Algiers.

Maccagno Charges Small Opposition Pushed Around

Alberta's Social Credit government, with its large majority, was accused of pushing the small opposition around in the Legislature.

The charge was made by Mike Maccagno (Lib.-Lac la Biche) shortly before members voted 51 to 2 to defeat second reading of a provincial bill of rights proposed by Ernest Watkins (Conservative-Calgary Glenmore).

Although Maccagno voted against the bill, he said there is a need for recognition of rights of members of the Legislature.

"The rights of members are being pushed around simply because there are only four of us here," he said.

Maccagno objected specifically to an announcement by Health Minister Dr. J. Donovan Ross outside the assembly chamber last Friday that the government was discontinuing maternity benefits under the hospitalization plan.

He suggested an announcement of this importance should be made in the house. "None of us have a chance to debate it."

Maccagno also questioned the minister's estimate of a saving of $750,000 as a result of ending the payment of co-insurance costs in maternity cases. He pointed out that about 40 percent of this was paid by the federal government and now the province has eliminated this contribution.

The government's verbal attack against the bill of rights was led by E. G. Hansell (Social Credit-Okotoks-High River). "The bill does not give us any freedom that we do not already enjoy," he said. "The bill was born of a socialist mentality" and is "an enactment of law behind which subversive elements can gain protection. It protects those that want freedom to destroy."

Hansell charged that while Communism is the biggest enemy on the world stage, "our biggest enemy in Canada today" is made up of the "pinkos" that are in the government, universities, and churches.

Lac La Biche Ice 31 Inches Deep

According to George Langevin, a veteran at the business of harvesting ice, the depth of ice on Lac la Biche is 31 inches. This is considerably less than the usual depth for this time of year despite the fact that the winter has been one of the coldest in years. The depth of ice on the lake has been known to reach one inch less than four feet.

The reason given for the difference in the thickness of ice is that a greater depth of snow has covered the lake, providing effective insulation. Settlers living on the opposite side of the lake have been unable to use the short cut to town this winter because of the heavy snow and drifting conditions on the lake.

Mack Young has purchased the Victory Garage, where he will carry on auto body repairs and general garage work. Jake Hayduk will be associated with him in the business.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Plett and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Phillips accompanied a number of the young people from the Evangelical Free Church to Edmonton March 31 to hear the Prairie Bible Institute mass choir from Three Hills perform in the Jubilee Auditorium. As was the case last year, the auditorium was filled to capacity & many music lovers were turned away because of lack of space.

Mrs. Corona Hamel is home again after spending the winter months with friends in Edmonton.

Lac la Biche Golf, Country Club Chooses May 21, For Opening Date

LAC LA BICHE — A sign that spring is near was seen recently when the board of directors of the Lac la Biche Golf and Country Club had their spring meeting in preparation for the forthcoming season.

Several topics were discussed. The fees for the year were set at $25 for a family, $15 for a male golfer, $10 for a female golfer. The fee for students is $5, if the student is covered by his parents' family ticket. These fees are the same as those used for the previous year.

It was decided that the season would officially open on May 21, Victoria Day. Plans are currently under way for a local mixed tournament for opening day. The tournament will be run of in flights of eight according to the ability of the respective golfers, as was done in the open tournament last fall. Women who enter the tournament will be placed in flights of eight by themselves, and will not be playing against men. It is hoped that many ladies will enter. The entry fee has been set at $2, and anyone who is a local resident can enter, regardless of whether he has been a member in the past or whether he is a shareholder at present.

A social evening, with dance and floor show, as has been put on previously, has been scheduled for Wednesday, May 16. The club is also sponsoring a cash bingo at the Memorial Hall on April 4. Shares in the Golf Club will be selling again this year at the same price of $25 per share.

Bowling Becomes "Family" Sport

Bowling took a step closer to becoming a "family" sport in the legislature here last week.

A bill introduced to the house by Provincial Secretary A. R. Patrick exempts bowling alleys from all restriction they now must adhere to under the Billiard Rooms and Bowling Alleys Act.

The bill received first reading.

Bowling alleys will now be subject only to those regulations which would govern operation of an ordinary business.

This, said Patrick, is in recognition of the fact that bowling alleys have undergone a great change in the last few years. They are no longer hangouts, but places of family recreation.

The one exception under the bill will be the establishment whish combines bowling and pool. These will remain under the act.

Also contained in the bill is provision for lowering of the age limit of those in pool halls from 18 to 16.

Fred Donald's Home Destroyed By Fire

KIKINO — Fire recently destroyed the home of Fred Donald. The men saved some of the household goods, but the fire was too far advanced when it was noticed, as a show was in progress in the hall at the time.

Volunteer fire fighters saved his truck, barn, horses and hay.

The origin of the fire is unknown, but it is presumed that it was caused by the stove. Mr. Donald is a bachelor.

Maccagno Demands Answers To Questions Asked Dr. J. D. Ross

Mike Maccagno Liberal MLA for Lac la Biche was assured by Dr. J. Donovan Ross that he has received all the answers he is going to get to the questions he asked last month.

Mr. Macdagno said the questions he asked were approved and returns were ordered by the Legislature.

Dr. Ross replied, "I said I would bring in as many as I could . . . and I did."

Mr. Maccagno retorted, "You said you'd bring in the answers and you didn't.

"I did," countered Dr. Ross.

The questions called for the minister to table the findings of his department and the education department in their survey relating to prospective students for a school for handicapped children.

He also asked for all correspondence between the government and D. R. Cameron, principal of the school for handicapped children.

Dr. Ross said departmental correspondence does not have to be tabled.

"After all you were ordered," said Mr. Maccagno. "If I have to accept it then I will but it's not fair.

"That's your opinion," interjected Premier Manning.

"It's my opinion and it will be a lot of other people's," responded the opposition member.

Ernest Watkins (PC — Calgary Glenmore) said Dr. Ross should either answer the questions as ordered or move that the order be discharged.

Mr. Manning rose to say the Legislature has gone far beyond the rules of the House in an effort to answer opposition questions.

"We can exclude these things when the returns are asked for," he said.

Diesel Fuel Poured On Hot Coals Causes Mishap

AVENIR — Word has been received of an accident in which Onezime J. Plamondon of British Columbia received severe burns on his face and hands in an explosion which resulted while he was trying to light a fire with fuel oil, unaware that the stove still contained hot coals. His clothes caught fire in the burst of flame.

Laurent Plamondon, who was present, ran out with his clothes blazing. He rolled on the ground, extinguishing the fire. He started to re-enter the house for Mr. Plamondon, but met him coming out with his clothes on fire. Laurent rolled him on the ground and put out the flames.

He then ran to the nearest neighbor to telephone for the fire department and an ambulance for both injured men. Both were removed to hospital, where O. J. Plamondon is still receiving treatment. Laurent has now recovered.

A new $36-million transcontinental microwave system will be built by Canadian National-Canadian Pacific Telecommunications this Spring. Scheduled for completion in late 1963 the system, when linked to existing railway-owned facilities, will give CN-CP microwave communications from Newfoundland to British Columbia and the Yukon.

Microwave System Closes Gap In Communications

A 400-mile long microwave system between Peace River and Hay River was officially opened April 2 with ceremonies at Hay River, by the Hon. Walter Dinsdale, minister of northern affairs, and the Hon. Raymond Reierson, Alberta minister o telephones, The line closes the gap in telephone communications between Hay River, centre of the future Canadian National Telecommunication network in the Northwest Territories, and the Alberta Government Telephones terminus at Peace River.

The new microwave system connects with the 500 miles of CNT landlines running north and east from Hay River in the Northwest Territories. These lines, carrying both telephone and telegraph, were built in 1960-61.

The newest addition to the communications network of the north is another step in the orderly development of that area. In 1930, the federal government completed a 200-mile telegraph line north from the town of Peace River to Keg River and Fort Vermilion. As late as 1938, only Morse Wireless connected Edmonton with other northern areas.

In 1943, under war requirements, the Northwest Communications System was built, providing a multi-channel line running northwest from Edmonton through Alberta, British Columbia and the Yukon to Fairbanks, Alaska.

In 1946, this system was turned over to the Canadian National Telecommunications.

The Government of Alberta opened in 1958 a multi-circuit microwave system from Edmonton to Grande Prairie and Peace River, to serve the 76,000 residents of the Peace. It added two more circuits in 1960, to complement the Yukon microwave system connecting Alaska and, through AGT, the United States.

Meanwhile, Canadian National Telecommunications, already providing telephone and telegraph service in northern British Columbia and the Yukon, successfully tendered in 1959 for the franchise to provide long distance phone service to Hay River, Fort Smith, Yellowknife, and other Northwest Territory points.

It is interesting that, over much of the latest CNT land line, tripod pole construction was used to overcome the problem of muskeg. The work had to be completed in winter since the country was too soft in summer.

On the east leg to Fort Smith the line traverses a portion of Wood Buffalo Park. In the rutting season the animals attack the tripods and have been successful in upsetting three of them. This leg of the communications network also took diversion, to avoid the nesting place of the whooping crane.

Sometime in 1962 AGT and CNT will add a third partner to their northern network, the Saskatcewan Government Telephones which now provides local telephone service in Uranium City. AGT is building a tropospheric scatter wave system from Fort Smith to Uranium City which will connect that mining community with the continental network via Hay River and Peace River. Another AGT project in the same area will connect Fort Smith and Fort Chipewyan by V.H.F. radio.

The government is now looking for those who put the "lie" in relief.

REA Association Observes Growth, Finances Increase

LAC LA BICHE — The annual meeting of the Lac La Biche and Athabasca division of Rural Electrification Association was held in the Memorial Hall in Lac La Biche the afternoon of March 27, with 33 in attendance.

Guest speakers for the meeting were Harold Weber, co-operative activities branch, Edmonton, and Harold Cameron of the Provincial Power Commission. Other speakers included Fred Strashok, local district agriculturist, and Gordon Smaile, Edmonton division electrical inspector, also the following officials of Northland Utilities Co.; D. B. Mitchell, general manager; D. A. Peterson, electrical engineer and Ed Ringrose, treasurer.

Don McLeod and Charles Patry were present to represent the Athabasca REA. Mr. McLeod made a presentation of a plate with a map of the province of Alberta to Les Collins, supervisor of REA's, who is returning to England to take up employment. Mr. Collins will be replaced by Jim Wilson, Peace River.

Reports were given showing the growth and financial standing of the Rural Electrification Association. Films on power generation, transmission and distribution were shown and Mr. Smaile gave a talk on "Safety".

Deputy Mayor Lionel H. Vincent welcomed the members and guests on behalf of the town of Lac la Biche.

THE Homemaker

District Home Economist, Westlock
By Bertha M. McCutcheon

An informed wife is a prepared wife. With knowledge of family affairs, the informed wife can live happily in the present, and be prepared for the future.

A wife should know where your life insurance policies are kept, the name of the companies and the policy numbers and the person to call about them, when the premiums are due, the amount of the premium and where payable.

B. McCutcheon

A wife should know where other policies are kept, such as automobile, liability, fire, theft, health, Blue Cross or MSI.

A wife should know where her husband's will is kept, and what lawyer, if any, has a copy of it.

A wife should know saving account numbers and at what banks they are held.

A wife should know the safety deposit box number, where it is located, and where the keys are kept.

A wife should know of any mortgage or lease payments due, their amount, and where and when payable.

A wife should know of any installment contract payments, where passing the payment date may cause repossion.

A wife should know where old income tax and cancelled cheques are kept.

A wife should have a list of all securities such as stocks, bonds, shares, as well as a list of agencies looking after these.

A wife should know where to locate such papers as birth certificates, marriage certificates, deeds to property, mortgage papers, car ownership papers. These should be collected and kept in a safe place.

Do you think you are an informed wife?

Hot Spanish Sandwich

After skating, skiing or an old-fashioned sleigh ride a hot and hearty sandwich is a real taste treat. Some of the preparation can be done ahead of time so that all that the hostess has to do is simply put the sandwiches together, prepare the beverage and lunch is ready to serve.

2 tbsp. chopped onion
2 tbsp. butter or other fat, melted
3 cups canned tomatoes
1 green pepper, chopped
½ cup chopped celery
1 tbsp. flour
Salt and pepper
½ lb. sliced bacon
10 slices bread
10 thin slices Cheddar cheese

Cook the onion for a few minutes in 1 tbsp. of the fat. Add the tomatoes, green pepper and celery; simmer uncovered 20 to 30 minutes. Blend the remaining fat with the flour; add to the sauce with salt and pepper to taste; stir until the mixture thickens slightly. Fry the bacon until crisp. Toast the bread on both sides until golden brown. Make open-face sandwiches of the bread and bacon, and lay the thin slices of cheese on top. Put sandwiches on hot plates and pour over them the hot tomato sauce.

Mr., Mrs. Mose Caron Move To New Home

Mr. and Mrs. Mose Caron are leaving the district after farming here for the past 18 years. They moved here from Lethbridge in 1943 and bought the homestead of the late Matt Carlson.

After a serious illness last fall Mr. Caron decided to give up farming, and will move to Lac la Biche where they have purchased a home.

Mr. Caron plans to hold an auction sale in the near future and has sold his farm to Mike Federow of Lac la Biche.

Alberta Co-Op Managers Urged To Help Consumers Intelligence

Alberta Co-Op managers were urged recently to help consumers become more intelligent. Vance Packard, an American authority on persuasion techniques, told the group that a great deal of information on products could be supplied through provincial and national councils on consumers.

Mr. Packard accused the US government of encouraging a "live-for-a-day" attitude. He warned that we are under pressures that will ultimately make us "devoted to being happiness seekers, building a fur culture if intelligence is not added as a counteraction."

Mr. Packard said the government was involved in the loss of prudence, particularly when US Commerce Secretary Hodges urged Americans to buy more and at the same time they read in the ads.

The author of "The Hidden Persuaders" and "The Wastemakers" told the Co-Op Managers Conference that it was time courses were instituted in schools on television appreciation because the average child, at least in the US, spends more time in front of the TV than in the classroom.

He said consumers are starting to suffer from a "fatigue of believibility" because they are finding it harder and harder to believe what told businessmen there was a great need for mass stimulation of our latent wants.

The man who lives by the golden rule today never has to apologize for his actions tomorrow.

Vacationing Albertans Can Attend Royal Garden Party

The Honourable A. R. Patrick, Provincial Secretary, has announced the dates of the three Royal Garden Parties to be held at Buckingham Palace. The dates are — Friday, July 13th; Thursday, July 19th and Tuesday, July 24th. The time is 4 to 6 p.m. on each date.

Alberta residents planning vacation in the United Kingdom in July may obtain forms of application for invitation from the Provincial Secretary's Department, in Room 423, Legislative Building.

The number of applications received each year is always far in excess of the quota of invitations to each Party. In view of this and having regard to the embarrassment caused last year by Alberta visitors who failed to pick up tickets for which they applied, application should not be made unless the applicant indicates that he or she will be able to attend should an invitation be available.

Alberta's Agent General in the United Kingdom, Mr. R. A. McMullen, advises that only requests from residents of Alberta will be forwarded to the Lord Chamberlain for consideration.

The list of recommendations for invitations must be sent to the Lord Chamberlain many weeks ahead of the Parties, therefore, we have been informed that all applications must be forwarded prior to May 1st, 1962.

The ceremony of Trooping the Colours on Her Majesty's official Birthday will be held on Saturday, June 2nd, with a dress rehearsal on Saturday, May 26th. A limited supply of tickets to the ceremony at a cost of 25 shillings each will be available. Applications for these tickets must be submitted prior to May 15th and applicants should realize that the quota of tickets allotted to Canada is so limited and the demand is so heavy that only a percentage of applicants may be successful in obtaining tickets. Information regarding applications for tickets for the Trooping of the Colours ceremony and for the dress rehearsal may be obtained from the Provincial Secretary's Department, Room 423, Legislative Building.
